County Board Will Hold The Millage

County Commissioners planned final budget sessions this week at which time it appeared that some proposed expenditures will have to be shaved if the board expects to hold the line on taxation for the coming year.

The board, Monday, received the annual assessment roll from Tax Assessor Edgar Maxwell, and J. P. Icard, commission comptroller said it appeared the roll would not raise the amount of money the commission had budgeted.

The tax roll presented by Maxwell totaled $1,091,760,535 — up about $73,000,000 from last year. Despite the increase in valuation, the board will be forced to shave proposed expenditures if it expects the present tax millage to carry the load.

The board agreed to sit down and re-study the budget in an effort to bring expenditures in line with anticipated revenue.

The commission voted to sit as a board of equalization throughout the week in daily sessions starting at 10:30 a. m. Friday was set as the final day for registering complaints on the tax assessment roll. This week several property owners appeared before the board seeking a reduction in assessments. Their individual cases were referred to the tax assessor for review and for a report of his findings to be presented to the commission for consideration.

In connection with the tax roll, Maxwell said railroad and telegraph property is down about $3 million since FEC property is not included because of litigation now involving the railroad.

Total non-exempt property for taxing purposes was listed at $1,352,622,405.

Zellwood Crop Is Highly Successful

Pahokee growers and harvesters have returned from Zellwood where they participated in the harvest of the spring corn crop. Reports coming back with the local men tell of exceptionally good prices and a wonderful yield of sweet corn.

In several instances the yield ran between 330 and 340 bushels to the acre and in many instances the yield ran as high as 385 bushels, one of the harvesters said.

The price was steady for the major portion of the harvest at $2.50 per crate, it was pointed out. Along toward the end of the season the price dropped down to $2.00 per bushel.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis A. Chase have returned from a month's vacation in the western states. They visited their sons in Chicago and Los Angeles.

Mack Crews Takes Naval Training

GREAT LAKES, Ill. — William M. Crews, 22, grandson of Mrs. H. L. Sears of Canal Point is undergoing two weeks active duty recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

He is studying naval history, military drill, seamanship, gunnery, first aid, swimming and survival and sentry duty. A vigorous physical training schedule will round out the training.

Upon completion of this training, he will return to his local reserve unit for regular training sessions.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Templeton

Mrs. Gist Templeton, 92, of 1487 East Main Street died July 4 in West Palm Beach. Mrs. Templeton came to the Glades area in 1915 and for the past few years had her home with her grandson and family, Vance Depton.

She was a member of the Christian Church and is survived by one son, Julius Vance Gist, of Murphy, N. C.

Funeral services were held at Wetherington Chapel Monday at 3:00 p. m. Rev. John Briley officiated. Interment was at Port Mayaca. Pall bearers were, Duncan Padgett, Leo Maxwell, E. M. Willis, George Rashley, and M. M. Andrews.

Court Room Needs Told By Judge

County Commissioners this week were apprised of a critical shortage of space in judicial facilities housed in the court house and were asked to budget funds for new court room accommodations.

Leading a delegation of jurists and attorneys was Circuit Judge Russell O. Morrow who painted a grim picture for the commission as to present overcrowded court rooms and office space. He said the future would bring only more critical room shortage if something were not done, now to correct the situation.

"It is so critical," Judge Morrow told the commission, "that we felt we should appear before you and ask that you start planning for the future."

Judge Morrow predicted the future—based on population figures and legislative action—will bring three new judges—juvenile, criminal and county courts. He added that within five years if the county maintains its present growth, three more circuit court judges will be added.

Criminal Court Judge Russell McIntosh urged the commission to immediately budget funds for purchase of land for a new criminal court building, someplace away

Bank Of Pahokee In Healthy Condition

The semi-annual report of condition, as required by law, shows the Bank of Pahokee to be in healthy condition at the close of business on June 30, 1964, according to the report published elsewhere in this issue of The Everglades News.

Deposits according to the report are near the nine million dollar mark and loans and discounts are a little over two million. Cash on hand and due from banks amounts to seven and a quarter million.

"We have had a splendid season," is the way President Rupert Mock expressed his feelings about the six months since the last report on December 30, 1963. "Our trade area is experiencing a stable and steady growth and our bank is happy to be of service to the fine folks in this area," the bank president said.

Capital stock of the bank—oldest in Palm Beach county—is set at $200,000 with surplus at $250,000. Undivided profits are well over the $78,000 mark.

Cattle Pasture To Grow Vegetables

More cattle land goes into vegetables this fall in the Belle Glade area according to a story coming out of that section this week. A tract of 11,500 acres eleven miles of Belle Glade was transferred from the Pioneer Growers Cooperative to the Pioneer Land Company and will be devoted to the raising of vegetables.

The transfer involved an estimated $690,000.

The land transfer was recorded in West Palm Beach Wednesday. Documentary stamps show there is a mortgage on the tract in excess of $627,000.

E. A. McCabe, who is the executive vice president of the Growers Cooperative, is the president of the land company. Dooley said a number of stockholders own interests in both concerns.

The tract of land at present is being used to pasture cattle. It is located about two miles east of the Florida Sugar Corporation Mill.

Dooley said the land will be rented to the growers of vegetables. He did not specify what is to be raised as the land has not been rented or leased to any individual or group of individuals.

The Pioneer Growers Cooperative handles only vegetables. It is expected the land will be used to provide the winter market with vegetables from this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Estes and daughter, Woodie, of St. Simons, Ga., were the weekend guests of her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Tillis. They were accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. C. H. Tillis.

Last Rites Held For J. H. Giddens

Julian Howard Giddens, 47, of 379 East Main St. died July 4. He had been a resident of Pahokee since 1941 and was a World War II veteran.

Mr. Giddens is survived by his wife Wilma, two sons, Julian, Waycross, Ga.; and James of Ft. Leonardwood, Missouri; one daughter Mrs. Imogene Scott, Pahokee; one brother, Floyd Giddens, Lake View, Fla.; one sister, Mrs. Delta Smith, Jacksonville, S. C.; and two grandchildren.

Services were held at Wetherington Chapel Tuesday at 10:00 a. m. with Elder Lester Reams officiating. Interment was at Port Mayaca. Pall bearers were Lester Holmes, Wilbur Finley, Floyd Lee Blevins, Webb Pell, Elmer Upthegrove, and Willard Mullis.

25c Charge Hurts State's Fair Show

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. Bryant flew unexpectedly to New York Tuesday for two days of conferences aimed at saving the Florida World's Fair exhibit from bankruptcy.

Bryant scheduled a meeting Wednesday with Robert Moses, president of the World's Fair Corporation, and said he'll meet with the executive committee of the Florida World's Fair Authority on Thursday.

He said he will try to get Moses to live up to commitments to make the Florida exhibit, which covers a 3.5 acre site off from the main part of the fair, more accessible to the visiting public.

One promise, he said, was a moving sidewalk that would take fair-goers into the Florida area without a long hike. Another was for removal of a fence that forces persons debarking at a big parking lot adjacent to the Florida exhibit to walk more than a mile around the fence to get to the Florida area.

Asked if there was an emergency developing at the exhibit, an Leon County Circuit Court Judge Ben Willis ruled Wednesday that the 1963 legislative act splitting Lake Okechobee is valid. He said in his ruling that the law, which redraws the boundaries of five counties, is constitutional.

Palm Beach County Commissioners in West Palm Beach said Wednesday afternoon, when informed of the ruling, that the ruling would be challenged in higher court. Glades Hendry, Martin and Okechobee counties are the winners in the lake split upheld by Judge Willis.

But Judge Willis specified that the revenue will remain Palm Beach County's until current road-building issues are repaid. Bonds outstanding for building the county's secondary roads are to mature in 1975.

And spokesman for the four fattened counties expressed delight but not surprise—at the judge's ruling.

Palm Beach County Commissioners said they would urge that the case be appealed to Florida's Supreme Court.

"We should use every legal means possible to pursue this cause against the division of the lake," said chairman Bandlow. He reiterated one of the county's main contentions, that the lake split "establishes a very dangerous legislative precedent."

Martin County Commission Chairman Frank Wachua minimized the act's financial impact on any of the five counties involved.

"By the time gasoline tax funds are actually redistributed in 1975 other factors will have been present which would completely offset any loss to Palm Beach County," said Wachua.

The gas tax is allotted to counties as secondary road funds according to a formula which involved population, area, and miles of paved road.

"The population increase will be such that the change won't be noticed," said Wachua. "We're happy to have it (the court's decision) but we don't look for significant material gain."

Employers Told Of Federal Law

L. V. McClelland, Local Veterans Service Officer announces, a reminder to employers that federal law requires the granting of leave of absence for employees who perform training with the National Guard or reserve forces.

This reminder is issued in an effort to avoid possible misunderstanding during the spring and summer months, when many national guard and reserve units engage in annual active duty for training.

McClelland announced that federal law, administered by the bureau of veterans' reemployment rights, U. S. Department of Labor, provides that Guardsmen and reservists must request leave of absence from their employers and

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

Palm Beach County's jail is a "hodge podge" according to Criminal Court Judge Russell McIntosh.

Judge McIntosh appeared before the county commission Monday to plead for early construction of additional court room facilities.

He said he had voted against a proposed location of a new court building next to the county jail because the jail is in dire need of renovation.

He called the structure inadequate, labeled it a hodge podge and said it was without maximum security facilities.

Sheriff Martin Kellenberger added his views saying that last winter the jail population was so great that law enforcement officers couldn't segregate the "first offenders" from the other more hardened prisoners according to state law.

He said the "situation is very bad and won't get any better," due to an increase of crime in the county.

The commission listened but took no official action on the matter.

The county commission this week faces another round of lengthy negotiations with government agencies in attempt to win clear title to some 600 acres of land it seeks to help finance airport improvement.

The board learned that it must apply to the Department of Defense for elimination of a recapture clause in agreements which gives the government an opportunity to take over International Airport for defense purposes.

When the airport was returned to the county after World War II and subsequent use by the military, title to the field and adjacent land was restricted. The commission now seeks to acquire the 600 acre plot, near the airport. It plans to sell the land for airport financing. The Federal Aviation Authority has given its approval, providing the land is released by the defense department.

Court Room Needs—

from the court house. This step, he said, will make two court rooms and other space available in the court house.

A new building, Judge McIntosh said, will provide only temporary relief for a critical condition. "If we were built today, it would not be soon enough," Judge McIntosh said in describing conditions to the commission.

By 1974, Judge McIntosh said, the county's population of 27,000 will about double. With the growth, he said, will come an increase in crime, an increase in demand for more jury trials and an increased demand for even more court room space than is now being considered.

The commission said it recognized the urgent need of more judicial facilities and indicated it would start studying plans for expansion and ways to finance the expansion.

VISIT IN NAPLES

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wroten and children and her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Elliott and Elizabeth of Jacksonville were weekend visitors in Naples where they visited their mother, Mrs. Velva Baxter.

Employers Told—that the leave must be granted. Guardsmen and reservists are required by law to report back to work on the next regular scheduled work period following their release from training duty in order to be entitled to retention of seniority, Pay rate and other benefits.

McClelland suggests that questions from reservists, guardsmen or employers should be referred to Local Offices of the State Employment Service, Division of veterans reemployment, Or to the Department of Labor, Veterans Reemployment division Washington 25, D. C.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

Spiritual baptism will be emphasized at all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

"Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God" (Matt. 5) is the Golden Text, which will begin the Bible Lesson on "Sacrament."

The theme will be carried through in related readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (p. 241): "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual Life and its demonstration."

Mrs. Minter Collins left this week for a few days visit with her mother, Mrs. F. J. Winchester, in Sebring.

Glades Witnesses To Jax Convention

Over 12 of Jehovah's Witnesses left Canal Point and Pahokee this week for a four-day "Fruitage of the Spirit" district convention scheduled to begin Thursday July 9th at the Jacksonville, Florida, Coliseum, according to Miles Crum, presiding minister of the Belle Glade, congregation, which serves this area.

Convention officials still estimate an attendance of 13,000 to be present for the event sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, and the Jacksonville Congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses. Requests for rooming accommodations have been received from 25 states, Bahamas, Puerto Rico and Canada.

"Regular meetings held at the Kingdom Hall, on S. E. Avenue "G", in Belle Glade, will continue during the convention, since a majority of the congregation will be home, making plans to attend later conventions held in South Carolina," said Mr. Crum.

Crum said that 600 volunteers in Jacksonville have been calling on householders since June 14th searching for rooming accommodations for delegates expected to attend. This is in addition to hundreds of hotel and motel rooms being listed in the convention city. There are other delegates like Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Morris, well-known long-time Glades residents, that will be staying with relatives in the Convention city.

Museum Director Goes To California

SARASOTA—Kenneth Donahue, director of the state-owned Ringling Museums in Sarasota, has resigned his position to accept a post as deputy director of the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, effective in September.

He will go to a new museum complex, budgeted over $10.5 million, and scheduled to be completed next April.

Donahue joined the Ringling Museum staff as curator in 1953 and was named director in 1957. During his term as Ringling director, he expanded activities from a few months' program in the winter season to a year round schedule of exhibitions, films, concerts, lectures and other activities.

He is a member of the Governing Council of Southeastern Museum Conference of the American Association of Museums; chairman of the Fine Arts Committee of the Florida World's Fair Authority; and one of the organizers of the Florida Arts Council.

25c Charge Hurts—

aide said "Well, the meeting was not on the governor's schedule yesterday and today it is."

The trip by Bryant follows a report to UPI from State Development Commission Chairman Wendell Jarrard that the Florida exhibit is floundering financially.

He said a crisis probably would develop this month.

The porpoise show at the exhibit originally was supposed to underwrite the $130,000 to $150,000 a month operating costs of the whole exhibit but crowds have been disappointing at the whole fair up until now and admissions are not living up to expectations.

To take up the slack, the authority's executive committee slapped on a charge of 25 cents a person a week ago for admission to the whole exhibit which originally was free except for the porpoise shows five times a day.
